

SWAMI VIVEKANANDA YOGA ANUSANDHANA SAMSTHANA
(S-VYASA)

(Declared as Deemed-to-be University under Section 3 of the UGC Act, 1956)

BNYS 4th SEMESTER FINAL EXAMINATION
BNYS T 403 Medical jurisprudence and forensic medicine

Date: June 15, 2012

Time: 3 Hrs

Total Marks: 80

Essay type (answer any two of the following)

15X 2 = 30

1. Define Death. Discuss different types of death, what are the changes after the death.
2. What are the objectives of conducting medico-legal autopsies? What are the procedures and formalities in conducting medico-legal autopsy?
3. Explain the medico legal importance of different types of injuries.

Drawing (any one of the following)

10X1=10

4. Draw the different blood splash pattern and explain.
5. Draw the injury caused by hot water and discuss its medico legal importance

Short notes (answer any four of the following)

5X4=20

6. What is abrasion? What are the abrasions? Explain its medico legal importance.
7. Discuss the etiological classifications of the injury
8. Discuss the history of finger printing.
9. Define passive blood stain. Explain with examples?
10. Define injury medically and legally?

Short answers (answer all questions)

2X10=20

11. What are the different types of death?
12. What is Putrefaction?
13. What is the role of pathologist to establish trauma on the body?
14. What are the different post mortem changes?
15. Differentiate epidermal, dermo- epidermal and deep burn?
16. What are the objectives of autopsy?
17. What are the different types of stab wound?
18. Differentiate between contusion and post mortem lividity?
19. What is contusion? What are the different types of contusion?
20. What are the fundamentals of finger prints?